Key Officials to Be Honored at Shema Kolainu Legislative Breakfast

THE FRIEDLANDER GROUP

On Wednesday, August 10, Shema Kolainu-Hear Our Voices, a school and center for children with autism, will host their Annual Legislative Breakfast at the Renaissance Ballroom, located at 5902 14th Avenue in Brooklyn, at 8:30 a.m.

Established in 1998 by Dr. Joshua Weinstein when it opened its doors to three young school children — the first school and center of its kind — today, close to a thousand children benefit from Shema Kolainu's center and home-based services and programs for children on the autism spectrum, in all five boroughs of New York City.

Founder and CEO Dr. Joshua Weinstein declared, "This is a remarkable feat, accomplished only with Hashem's help." Dr. Weinstein will open the program, offering a warm welcome to all champions of autism advocacy.

Shema Kolainu hosts its annual legislative breakfast to educate lawmakers about the urgency of autism care and research, raise support and awareness, and share ideas about working toward combating autism by means of effective public policy and legislation.

Communal, civic and religious leaders, philanthropists, and elected officials will be participating in order to pay tribute to several outstanding public officials for their role in furthering the mission of Shema Kolainu. Several will be honored for their proven dedication to increasing educational opportunities for children with autism spectrum disorders.

The honorees are:

NYC Deputy Mayor for Health and Human Services Dr. Herminia Palacio, who oversees the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, NYC Health + Hospitals, Human Resources Administration. Dr. Palacio will be presented with the City Leadership Award in recognition of her outstanding commitment to the most vulnerable in our city's population. Dr. Alan Kadish will also be honored.

Dr. Alan Kadish

As President of Touro College and University System, Dr. Kadish heads the nation's largest Jewish-sponsored institution of higher education, with a student body of more than 18,000, at 32 schools in four countries. One of the leading educators of healthcare professionals in the United States, Touro's graduates pursue careers in medicine, pharmacy, and nursing; occupational, physical and speech therapy, and more.

Dr. Kadish has expressed his commitment to families touched by autism through Touro's multi-faceted Autism Center and through ongoing education of health professionals to serve the needs of patients with autism.

Shema Kolainu is grateful to Dr. Kadish for his commitment to their mission to enhance the quality of life of children with autism and their families.

Greetings will be heard from New York City Comptroller Scott Stringer.

As is already a tradition at the Shema Kolainu breakfast, Mr. Menachem Lubinsky, CEO of LUBICOM Marketing Consulting, and Mr. Kalman Yeger Esq. will be masters of ceremonies.
